Food Services at SFTSD attempts to identify food ingredients that may cause allergic reactions for those individuals with food allergies. While we take cautions to minimize the risk of cross contamination and label food items with possible allergen-containing ingredients, we cannot guarantee that our products are safe to consume for people with certain allergies, including egg, fish, milk, wheat, soy, shellfish, wheat, peanut and tree nut allergies. If your child has been diagnosed with a food allergy, please notify your child's principal immediately.
